Thanks for your reply. I wish I could answer the question definitively but criminal law not my expertise. I would get the justice lawyers in a room and ask what laws are in place now. What emergency measures are available? and brainstorm on what laws could be introduced on an extraordinary basis. Basically want a provision that any act that interferes with commercial activity (which would potentially cover Ottawa although maybe more tenuous) makes you subject to massive fine or prosecution. It's a national security issue.

These comments have been very helpful, Jamie. I totally agree w you and have been pushing for stronger action. I think we are getting there. C
